themes

Focus on three strategic, interconnected areas that serve to organize the most pressing food system challenges:

- FOOD AND CITIES
resilient cities with healthy, fair and accessible food for all.
- FOOD AND CLIMATE
valorization of biodiversity, food diversity and with less climate impact.
- FOOD AND CULTURE
appreciation and recognition of the link between cultural practices and food, knowledge and flavors.

- A think tank on the transition to sustainable food systems, working mainly on the urban food agenda - urban food systems
- Programs, Intelligence & Advocacy: towards better food policies and growing food systems movement
- Key program: LUPPA, the Brazilian LAB on Urban Food Policies

A CITY NETWORK ON FOOD POLICY

Launched in 2021, LUPPA is both a capacity-building and a knowledge-sharing programme, and a platform for information and best practices on local food policies.

It spots policy innovation, facilitate peer-to-peer cooperation and mutual learning, highlights common bottlenecks and supports advocacy at national level.

LUPPA facilitates the development of local policies with a circular food systems approach and local multi-year food strategies within a participatory governance mechanism.
